Senior Class History

Our History was a mystery, so we hired a detective to investigate it and this is what he discovered about the class of '56:

The Fall of 1951 found Shirley Ullery, Carl Williams, Arlan Melby, Lyle Donovan and Lowell Donovan enrolled as Freshmen. They were initiated as all good "greenhorns" are at KHS. . .and then the fun began. Carl and Lowell starred in Night Owl.

During the Sophomore year the boys won second place in the District Basketball Tournament in Havre. The class number increased as Arlene Pursley decided to get in the swing of things.

The Junior year brought even more laurels on the hardwoods. The Foxy foxes took the District Tourney and went on to grab third in the Divisional Class C held in Havre. During the Spring, Lyle, Arlan, Lowell and Arlene took parts in the play Aaron Slick From Punkin Crick, a hilarious comedy which the school thoroughly enjoyed.

After complete investigation, it was discovered the class breathed a huge sigh of relief with just the thought of starting their Senior year. No distinguishing achievements were made in sports, but track was started. Lowell Donovan was the cinder captain and Lyle Donovan the hoop captain. Carl became editor of the LAIR and went on to surprise everyone by acting in the play The Curse of an Aching Heart. The detectives searched further and learned to no one's surprise that Carl and Lowell topped the class scholastically. Here and there, however, a few unsolved mysteries cropped up--Shirley and Arlan were missing at graduation time. But what a happy time it was.

It was then we decided to favor our lowly schoolmates with the reading of the class will; Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Being of sound mind and body, we, the Seniors of '56 wish to bequeath:

To the Freshmen, the echo of our stomping feet in the halls; to the class of 58 (those that make it) we bequeath our pillows from the 8:30 class; to the class of '57, we bequeath all our pencils, paper, books and ink -- you'll need 'em!

I, LYLE, bequeath my good luck in charming women to Leo Wall and Fred Bullman.

I, LOWELL, bequeath my English homework to anyone who'll be foolish enough to take it.

I, ARLENE, bequeath nothing, because I'm taking it all with me, even my bit of good luck.

I, CARL, bequeath my ability for getting along with teachers to all students with a grade below "C" level.

So be it. . .farewell and goodbye to Kremlin High.

Shop Class

Attentive onlookers in shop are Carl, Hoot, Lowell, and Chas, as "Newt" puts a point across.

Typing 1 Class

"Watch the book now, not your hands" is the advice of Mr. Aspevig to Jackie and Rosey, Roxie and Diana, Terry and Earlap.

Civics Class

Ah, yes, the science of government and our duties as citizens--a good course for freshmen and sophomores, says Mr. Hartwick.

English Class

It's that familiar English room, (that "well-liked" subject), and instructor Mr. V. What a studious group!

Hot Lunch Program

"What time is it? Ten minutes before noon? Gee, just about time for lunch-- I'm hungry!"

And so it goes--maybe a little tardy for class, but never late in that lunch line.

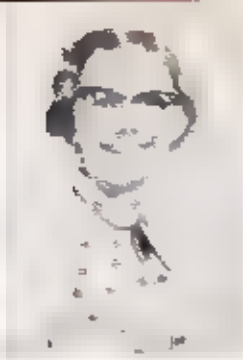

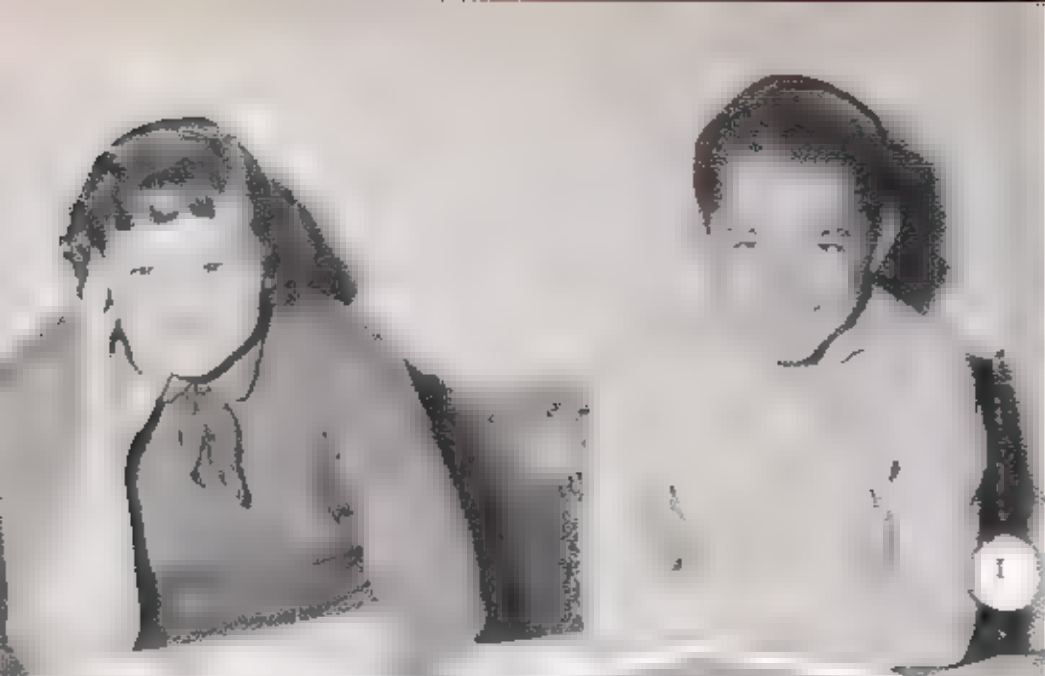

So, Mrs. Ullery and Shirley are kept hustling to turn out those delicious and ample servings.
